Elixinol Global Limited (EXL or the Company) (ASX:EXL; OTCQX:ELLXF), a global company operating in the hemp, CBD nutraceutical and emerging medicinal cannabis sectors, is pleased to announce that Elixinol has been officially granted a CBD Processor Research Partner Authorization by the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

The New York State Department promotes New York agriculture and its high-quality and diverse products, fosters agricultural environmental stewardship, and safeguards the State's food supply, land, and livestock to ensure the viability and growth of New York's agriculture industries.

Chris Husong, VP of Marketing and Communications at Elixinol commented: "Elixinol strives to ensure it operates within strict regulatory compliance on the state level. All of our products come with the highly coveted U.S. Hemp Authority stamp of approval, and now will include the New York state's strict quality control and compliance framework as well."

Gabriel Ettenson, President and Co-Founder of Elixinol commented: "We are excited to continue to scale our production and efficiency, whilst supporting the state of New York's economy. As a life-long New Yorker myself, and as someone who built my first business in the State, I know the CBD industry will continue to benefit New York greatly."
